SELECTED ADVISOR'S EXPERIENCE > International Projects

WESTMAR
ADVISORS

Selected Global Experience From Our People's CVs
Additional experience and details are available, please contact us for more information.

1 Senior project management for all design phases for a new naval facility in the high arctic.

2 Senior project management for the Pre-FEED and FEED development of a US$1.5 billion sulphur handling facility.

3 Senior project management for engineering, procurement, and construction management of a US $140 million coal import terminal.

4 Senior project manager for FEED services for solid sulphur handling and expansion of port facilities at a marine terminal.

5 Project management for the planning, design, procurement and construction management for a cruise terminal expansion.

6 Project management for a study of proposed shipping options versus various levels of infrastructure investment at an existing bulk terminal.

7 Lead marine engineering for a concept design study for an iron-ore export terminal at two possible locations.

8 Project management for a scoping study for port facilities required as part of the development of an iron ore deposit.

9 Project management for the design review of a major port and cruise terminal redevelopment, including a new 500 slip marina.

10 Lead marine engineering for site selection for a coastal concentrate export terminal.

11 Assessment of the project execution status of a multi-billion dollar capital project to identify risks and estimate total project cost.

12 Peer review and gap analysis of FEL 2 report and capital cost estimate for a new US $1 billion iron ore export terminal.

13 Owner's engineer, provincial government representative and project director for a 1.4 km, five-lane floating highway bridge.

14 Project director for port facilities and concentrate transportation, assisting in the development of a complex contracting program.

15 Project management for the master planning, conceptual design, and capital cost estimate for a new grain terminal.